How to get on well with your vet

1. Don't expect your vet, or any other member of our staff to read your mind. We start from the information you give us.
2. Do tell the vet at the start of the consultation what really concerns you and what you would like the vet to do.
3. Ask questions in the consulting room, and ask again if you need more information. Make a list of your concerns.
4. If you are insured tell the vet at the start of the consultation.
5. If you need to be particularly economical with treatment costs tell the vet at the start of the consultation.
6. If you are unhappy with anything about the practice do let us know right away. Most misunderstandings can be sorted out quickly. If there is something more seriously wrong we want to know right away so we can put it right. Please feel free to speak to any member of staff or put your concerns in writing to the Practice Manager.
